

CONSENT TO AUDIO- OR VIDEORECORDING, TRANSCRIPTION, AND SUBSEQUENT USE OF RECORDINGS

WORKSHOP: Collaborative Reflection & Prospect Formation

ORGANIZER: Peter J. Taylor, University of Massachusetts Boston

With the other participants of this workshop you will be asked to reflect on where you have come from in the area of critical and creative thinking and where you would like to be going. Immediately following the workshop you will be given the opportunity to have any recording made of you speaking during the workshop erased if you wish to withdraw your consent. The organizer plans to make transcripts of the workshop recordings, allow you one month to read the transcripts and make corrections and emendations, then use the transcript identified with your name as the speaker quoted in presentations and made public on the internet and in manuscripts intended for publication. You may indicate that you are giving permission for each procedure below by initialing each item below. If you do not want to give permission for any of the procedures do not initial those ones.

I am consenting to the following conditions (indicated by my initials) governing the use of the recording(s):

_____ participating in the workshop;

_____ having the workshop audiotaped;

_____ having the workshop videorecorded;

_____ having the recordings transcribed;

_____ making corrections and emendations within a month of receiving the transcript of what I say;

_____ having excerpts from the transcript of what I say (with corrections and emendations if I have made any within one month of receiving them) identified with my name as the speaker quoted in presentations and in manuscripts intended for publication; _____ retaining copyright on the transcript in full of what I say (with corrections and emendations if I have made any within one month of receiving them) when it is made public on the internet and in a published anthology; _____ not having copyright for the anthology as a collection and receiving no royalties for my contribution; _____ having the recordings and transcript preserved longer than 7 years without my signing a renewal of this release form governing the continued use of the material; and

I understand that immediately following the workshop I will be given the opportunity to have any recordings of what I have said erased if I wish to withdraw my consent.

My signature below indicates that I am consenting to the initialed procedures described above.
